UN RIGHTS RESPECTING SCHOOLS

Gold Accreditation

We have been working hard over the last year to evaluate our school as 'gold' level for the Rights Respecting School Award. We are awaiting inspection for accreditation and we need your voice to help us.

What is it?

The Rights Respecting School Award recognises how well schools understand, value and enact The United Nations Rights of the Child. Schools can be awarded a bronze, silver or gold accreditation. We believe we can achieve gold.

How can you help?

- You will work with the school staff and pupils to develop yours and the wider community's understanding of the Rights of the child and how we enact them in school.
- You will share your understanding and help us to highlight our good practice at the accreditation.
